

Illinois Honored For Its Role in Foreign Trade

Illinois has received the E-Star Award from the U. S. Department of Commerce. The award, to the state is the highest that can be given to states and private organizations for outstanding achievements in exporting and international trade. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie accepted the award from Lawrence A. Fox, deputy assistant secretary of the Department of Commerce for International Economic Policy at ceremonies in Chicago.

Fox noted that "Illinois is the first state to receive the E-Star Award and has continued and expanded its excellent export promotion programs. Gov. Ogilvie's interest and personal attention to international trade has contributed greatly to the state's efforts." Fox continued:

"Due to recent federal actions, such as dollar devaluation and passage of Domestic International Sales Corporation legislation, opportunities in foreign trade have increased. Illinois is fortunate in having an efficient overseas office in Brussels, Belgium, to assist the state's manufacturers and producers in making export sales."

In accepting the award, Ogilvie said, "We are especially pleased by this recognition, because it represents the judgment of experts—and because it effort, in all its facets, to promote commerce among the nations generally, and more Illinois profits abroad, specifically."

In an address following the award presentation, the governor noted that Illinois' nearly $3 billion in annual export sales are responsible, in whole or in part, for the employment of about 1.5 million of the state's workers. The ceremonies took place during a seminar on international transportation sponsored by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

In recent years, the state has been aggressively promoting increased foreign trade through participation in overseas trade shows and through personal contact with potential Illinois exporters. Its programs are run by the department, which has international trade offices in Chicago, New York and Brussels, Belgium.

SELECTING A HARD HAT. Sen. Edmund Muskie had difficulty finding a hard hat to fit him for a tour the Granite City Steel Co. Tuesday. Finally, he settled for a hat that was too small, joking, "That wouldn't keep you warm in New Hampshire," where the first primary Presidential election will be held.

A WHIRLWIND TOUR was conducted by Sen. Edmund Muskie (D-Maine) Tuesday in a visit at Granite City Steel Co., where he greeted reporters, politicians, workers and area residents. Among those who talked to him during his brief visit were Gary Schneider, Press-Record staff reporter, left, and John Hendrickson of O'Fallon, a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, right.

Juvenile Officers to Hear 'Ghost Hunter'

"Adventures in the Unknown" will be the program for the monthly meeting of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers Association Monday. The dinner meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at Charlie's Restaurant, in Granite City.

Gordon J. Hoener, noted psychic investigator and parapsychologist, will present a psychic lecture - demonstration on extra-sensory perception which will feature audience participation in experiments of telepathy, mind-over-matter, and communication with the "other side" of the mind.

Hoener, a St. Louis marketing and management consultant, is president of the Psychological Research Society of St. Louis, which studies psychic phenomena, and creator of "The Hunt Hunters," an international psychic investigation agency. Billed as "The World's Foremost Mystery Entertainer," Hoener is a noted authority on ESP, ghosts, metaphysics, witchcraft and voodoo.

The Metro-East Juvenile Officers Association is a professional association of police juvenile officers, social workers, educators, and others who work with youth in the course of their jobs. Granite City Police Detective Sergeant Joseph J. Nemeth is president of the association. Belleville legal investigator Anthony M. Golc is secretary-treasurer.

Monday's meeting and program is open to the general public. The only charge is the cost of dinner, which is $4.00 per person. Hoener's appearance at the juvenile officers meeting is sponsored by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

In New Quarters

National Steel's Sales Up in '71; Imports, Costs Reduce Net Income

National Steel Corporation earned 1971 net income of $48,655,109, equal to $2.61 per share, President George A. Stinson reported late Monday afternoon in Pittsburgh.

"This profit included an extraordinary net gain of $4,367,544, or 24 cents per share, on various property sales.

The 1971 earnings were diluted by 36 cents per share as a result of consolidating Granite City Steel Co. and Evans Industries, Inc. for the full year, 1971, when both were acquired. 1970 results have been restated on a pooling-of-interests basis.

"Financial results for 1971 were exceedingly poor," Stinson said.

"Our fundamental problems, which affected the steel industry generally, were three—

"1. The drastic fluctuations in demand—from quarter to quarter.

"2. A severe cost-price squeeze as prices lagged out of phase with rising costs.

"3. Record steel mill product imports, which jumped to levels well above the limits set by their quotas."

Earnings for 1971 compared with $63,103,735, equal to $3.39 per share, for 1970.

Sales and operating revenues were $1,522,074,238, or 6.1% above the 1970 restated total of $1,434,613,960.

In addition to Granite City Steel's contribution, this new record represented increased sales by National Aluminum Division.

Shipments of steel mill products totaled 7,223,000 tons, compared with 7,223,700 tons in 1970. Primary steel production in 1971 was 81,681,300 tons, compared with 8,869,400 tons in 1970.

Depreciation and depletion charges in 1971 rose 11.2% to $93,456,828 from the $84,041,031 charged in 1970.

Investment credit, accounted for on the flow-through method, totaled $1,150,000 for 1971, compared with $1,138,000 in 1970.

"Our 1971 profit was slightly above the level of our annual dividend payments, which were maintained through 1971 at the $2.58-per-share rate paid in recent years," Stinson said.

"We continue now, as we have for months, to take such corrective action as is possible under the conditions which have seen our company, and the steel industry as a whole, operating at production and shipping rates not experienced in a non-strike year for several decades.

Today, prospects for our business are improving and 1972 should be a better year for National Steel.

"How good a year it will be depends mainly on the demand for our products arising from the entire U. S. economy," Stinson concluded.

The financial summary follows, with the 1971 calendar year given first and 1970 in parentheses:

Sales and operating revenue, $1,522,074,238 ($1,434,613,960).

Income from operations and income from interest and dividends after deducting cost of sales, selling and general expenses and all other expenses except those shown separately below, $183,927,947 ($180,372,317).

Provision for depreciation and depletion, $83,456,828 ($84,041,031).

Interest and other debt expense, $23,082,839 ($17,047,531).

Provision for federal income taxes, $23,100,000 ($16,180,000).

Income before extraordinary credit, $44,287,265 ($83,108,755).

Gain on property sales (less applicable income tax of $1,900,000), $4,367,544 (none).

Net income, $48,655,109 ($83,103,735).

Earned per-share income before extraordinary credit, $2.61 ($3.39).

Gain on property sales, net of income tax, per share, .24 (none).

Net income per share, $2.61 ($3.39).

Average number of shares outstanding 18,667,000 (18,614,000).

Raw steel production, net tons, 8,861,300 (9,869,400).

Shipments (net tons), 7,223,000 (7,223,700).

The results for the year ended Dec. 31, 1971, are subject to final audit.

Will State Crack Down on State Agencies' Pollution?

Copley News Service
Springfield — Illinois officials are continuing their watch on possible pollution both of air and water by various state installations scattered throughout the state.

The program was started some time ago under the direction of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. Raynor Sturgis, former General Services Department director, is currently serving as coordinator in the program to combat pollution by state institutions.

The General Services Department is also checking into the possibility of using propane gas for state vehicles. This is being done in an effort to cut down on the possibility of air pollution. Presently, only several cars are involved in the program; if it does prove to be successful, it could be expanded.

A continuing check is being made at all state installations under the supervision of Sturgis.

The General Assembly has been appropriating money to be used in the state's own fight against pollution. In some cases, the use of gas has replaced coal and in other cases equipment has been installed in an effort to curtail forms of pollution.

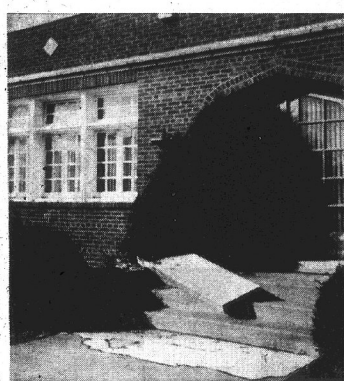

The state program is designed to have the state institutions meet air and water standards established by the Environmental Protection Agency and the Pollution Control Board.

To date, none of the state institutions have been hauled before the Pollution Control Board for violations.

One of the prime problems has been getting enough state funds to go around to the institutions to combat pollution.

Officials in the Bureau of the Budget have been taking long, hard looks at the program for the upcoming fiscal year. Gov. Ogilvie is to present his budget for fiscal 1972-73 on March 1 and it is expected that in the budget will be some funds to carry on the battle of pollution.

Soil Causes Bluff Area Construction Problems

Potential construction problems caused by soil deposit in Madison and St. Clair Counties are described for builders in a report prepared by a graduate student at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The report, written by Kent M. Bratton, is being distributed by the Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation and the Council of Contractors Association. It is titled "Some Geologic Factors Affecting Construction in the Upland Border Section of the Metro East Area."

Bratton said rapid residential and commercial expansion in the two-county area may force builders to construct buildings on land with marginal soil safety.

"At construction sites where such adverse geologic conditions are present, they must be properly recognized and considered to minimize or eliminate construction delays, structural failures and financial losses," he said in the report.

The report is a first step in identifying potential construction hazards.

None of the construction problems encountered in the surficial materials of the area are insurmountable," Bratton said.

"However, those that exist must be properly recognized and dealt with to insure maximum utilization of the available land and to reduce the effects of uncontrolled development in areas with hazardous conditions."

The report is oriented toward home builders, Bratton said, who sometimes find the cost of consulting services prohibitive and must therefore rely on their own resources in interpreting geologic conditions at building sites.

Bratton said the upland border section of this region, extending from Alton to just south of Belleville, contains a large amount of wind-deposited silt, called "loess" by geologists.

Construction problems are most often encountered in the loess deposits of the area, as they are nearly everywhere under the land surface, are extremely susceptible to erosion and are highly unstable when saturated with water," Bratton said.

"Where saturated loess is encountered, adequate stability can only be achieved by draining the material."

Drainage may occur naturally once the material is exposed, but may require the installation of subsurface tile or perforated-pipe drains, or surface drainage ditches to intercept the flow of groundwater."

In the report, Bratton also describes potentially hazardous building conditions in specific places in the region where peaty, organic-rich deposits called Robin silt occur with the loess. Such silt is usually saturated with water and highly unstable.

Saturated Robin silt is probably causing problems of structural instability encountered by the Illinois Division of Highways in construction of the Interstate 64 overpass at Ruby Lane in Fairview Heights, Bratton said.

Robin silt has been detected at six other locations, he added.

—At the Interstate 64 cut through the bluffs just north of French Village.

—In a borrow pit immediately northwest of Illinois 157 and the access road to SIU-SW.

—On the east side of Illinois 157, about 7 mile south of intersection 70.

—In a borrow pit at the north edge of Caseyville, just south-east of the Illinois 157 bridge over Canteen Creek.

—And beneath the Belleville Valley industrial site, just east of Belleville, where development plans call for supporting proposed structures with piles driven to bedrock.

Bratton said Robin silt is more widespread than has been indicated previously. He said they will be encountered more frequently as the number of construction excavations increases.

"Construction on the organic-rich or peaty silt should be avoided, if at all possible, because of their spongy nature and the possibility of undesirable chemical reactions," he said.

Bratton currently is employed as a regional planner with the Southern Missouri Regional Plan Commission. The report was completed during research he conducted while working on his master of science degree with a concentration in physical geography at SIU-SW.

Research advisor was Ronald Yarbrough, SIU-SW instructor in the earth sciences department. The report was edited by Robert Koopke, associate professor in the SIU-SW earth sciences department.

Correspondent Says Ogilvie Prospects Are on Upswing

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service
Springfield — Ogilvie coming back?

Perhaps so.

January 1972 has produced more predictions on the Springfield political circuit of the re-election of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie than one could recall for the whole year of 1971.

Nor do they come only from the Statehouse supporters of the governor. Some respected and objective students of Illinois politics profess to see signs of Ogilvie resurgence.

There is also some noticeable Democratic nervousness. The bubbling optimism of the past year has given way to sober contemplation of a hard fight ahead.

The feeling is stronger than ever beneath the Statehouse dome that the 1972 election in Illinois is going to be close.

Growing, if still cautious, optimism among Capitol Republicans can be attributed to several reasons.

The first and probably most important is the surprisingly hard-fought and evenly matched bitter campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

A Democratic primary contest in Illinois is a rarity and the fight between Lt. Gov. Paul Simon and walking Dan Walker resembles those old battles between the Republicans and the Democrats.

Simon is still expected to win substantially, but he is being wounded by the Walker attack. Statehouse strategists believe Simon's stature already has been diminished from what it was a year ago.

There is little question that Simon's compromise with the regular Democratic organization and his close association with Daley, constantly publicized by Walker, has had some effect on his earlier image as a crystal-clear idealist.

The Democratic statewide outlook has also dimmed because of the loud and fierce controversy in Chicago and Cook County stemming from the organization's dumping of State Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan.

The unity-front with which Illinois Democrats usually confront the ordinarily divided Republicans has been further eroded by the surprisingly brisk scramble for support by three candidates for President.

The preferential primary popularity contest between U. S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy is causing some strains and encouraging the Walker forces. U. S. Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota is adding to party division in his bid for Illinois convention delegates.

The extensive Democratic wrangling may well influence many voters to wonder whether this is the appropriate time to return that party to dominance in federal or state government.

There are some positive as well as negative factors working in Ogilvie's favor.

To some at the Statehouse, the income tax is diminishing as an issue. It appears the public is at last accepting the fact that state government could not have avoided collapse without it.

Even Simon has conceded that some major revisions in the state's tax system lie ahead.

Above all else there are signs, grudgingly conceded by even some Statehouse Democrats, that a large segment of the voting public is becoming aware that Ogilvie has done a good job in a tough time and, perhaps, should be granted the second term that Illinois voters customarily give their governors.

Trailriders Plan Horse Shows; Seek Members

Plans for several summer activities, including horse shows, trailrides and campfires were discussed Tuesday evening by members of the Trailriders Saddle Club when the local group held its first business session of the new year.

Meeting in the home of the newly elected president, Gene Jones, on Rural Route 20, members honored John Isom, immediate past president, with a retirement gift. The presentation was made by William Jennings, vice president.

Reports were given by Miss Patricia Bryar, secretary and Giles Smith, treasurer, who announced that all dues are payable now, with the final date set for the April business meeting.

New members are being sought, Jones said. The Trailriders Club currently has a membership roster of 52, which includes individual adults, young people and several entire families, the officer pointed out.

Horse shows will begin in late May and continue through the first week in September at the club's arena on Chouteau Slough Road, near Rock Road. Parties, camping trips and other club events were tentatively planned.

Prospective members may obtain information about the riding club by writing the Trailriders Saddle Club, P. O. Box 314, Granite City, or contacting a club officer, Jones advised.

Harris Mothers Club Praised at Madison Rotary

Parents, students and teachers of the Madison school district have received assistance for over 20 years from a group that many citizens do not know exists, known as the Harris School Mothers Club, according to Porter Cawley, principal of the Harris Elementary school in Madison.

Cawley spoke to the Madison Rotary Club Wednesday at its noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

Cawley pointed out that much of the club's work helps the entire school system and not just Harris school.

A few of the projects, during the past 20 years, have included the purchase of special education equipment; shoes and raincoats for patrol boys, televisions for each school, baskets of food for families, and clothes for needy children, in addition to hundreds of little gestures of help that add up to one very big overall contribution to the well being of all the children in the Madison district.

Mrs. Mary Layton is the current president and the club has an active membership of about 20 mothers.

In other business the Rotarians celebrated the birthday of Dr. E. Stanley Howlett, Frank Fijan and E. A. Friedman were appointed to plan a ladies' night program for the club.

Park IDs Issued for Last Time Saturday

Granite City residents may obtain park district identification cards from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park pavilion. The special session will mark the final issue of park IDs until the latter part of May, Harold Brown, superintendent, said today.

ID cards, which entitle local residents to take part in park-sponsored activities at reduced rates, are available for 60 cents each. The cost includes a plasticized photo taken at the time of issuance, Brown noted.

ALL THE FISH YOU CAN EAT FRIDAY, 12:29 AT GRANTS

Animal Protection Club Formed at Prather; APA Plans Adoption Booth

The Quad-Cities Association for Protection of Animals will sponsor an "adoption booth" at the Greater St. Louis Cat Show, scheduled to take place Saturday and Sunday in the Exposition Building at the Belleair Fairground in Belleville.

Mrs. Judith Johnson, APA president, said an invitation to set up a free adoption booth at the annual cat show is extended to a single humane group each year.

"We are very pleased to be chosen to take part in the week-end show as we are a relatively new APA chapter," she said. City and county animal shelters and public-supported humane organizations have been represented in previous exhibitions, Mrs. Johnson noted.

Between 25 and 30 lively kittens will be available for adoption at the cat show which will be open to patrons from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Several kittens obtained from the Granite City Animal Shelter and taken to local veterinarian, Dr. Leland Holt, for examination and shots will be among those offered for adoption.

Tickets for the show may be obtained in advance from local APA members at 50 cents each. Admission at the door will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for each child.

Mrs. Johnson said the exhibition is one of the largest to be staged in the St. Louis metropolitan area with many different and unusual breeds of cats to be displayed. The Greater St. Louis Cat Club has sponsored similar shows each year for the past 30 years at various sites in the bi-state regional area.

Prather Student Club In a related announcement, Mrs. Johnson said that cooperation from Granite City School District officials has resulted in the formation of the first student branch of the APA.

The Student APA Club was organized this month at Prather Junior High School under the leadership of Miss Kathy Harsh, speech teacher at Prather JHS. Officers elected by the Junior high school pupils were Vicky Stockley, president; Bill Hubbard, vice president; Jim Naylor, historian; Mary Jane Strong, secretary; Marlene Marmion, treasurer; and Ed Barnett, construction manager.

Assume Active Role The Prather students are expected to take an active role in the animal protective association's future plans, Mrs. Johnson said. She added that similar branches and clubs hoped to be organized at other local junior high schools, or under the sponsorship of church and youth organizations.

Student APA members at Prather have agreed to be responsible for presenting a series of educational programs, the APA officer said, adding that the group is willing to present an interesting and informative program for PTA and other groups starting immediately.

The senior APA chapter has purchased a 16mm sound film projector for use by the students and two color movies have been secured to start a film library.

Mrs. Johnson said that in the future the young people will help construct various shelters at the site, Mrs. Johnson said. They also have volunteered to assist at this weekend's adoption booth at the cat show in Belleville, she added.

Almost the first project of the Prather club was adoption of a tiny black orphan kitten that wandered into a meeting. The members voted to pay for her upkeep and select a name, the officer reported.

Illinois Sites in Study For New Port Facilities

Assurances that Illinois sites will be given full consideration in a study to determine needs for port facilities to serve the St. Louis metropolitan area were given members of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council yesterday.

The Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis has proposed that the Gateway council contract for a study of the metropolitan port of St. Louis to gather data for a "sound long-range program of port development." The proposal was presented by J. Dale Perkins, head of the port committee of the chamber.

Feeling that the proposal primarily favored ports only on the Missouri side of the Mississippi River, John Bellcoff, of Madison, president of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SWIMAPAC), a member of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority and Madison City Clerk, read a prepared statement asking that a proposed U.S. Corps of Engineers study of ports in the St. Louis area be the only study used.

He questioned the "feasibility" of a second study, paid for by the Gateway council.

Should include Illinois Bellcoff said any study the council approves should study prime sites in Illinois as well as Missouri for a new port facility, if it is determined one is needed.

The council referred the study proposal to the Gateway staff to identify the scope and approximate cost of such a study before any action is taken.

In other action the council approved the Urban Planning Budget of the Illinois Division of Highways on a recommendation from its executive advisory committee.

The council also endorsed a strate proper care of animals and also to distribute educational material at meetings they attend.

Encourage Pet Care "By incorporating the young people in our overall program we hope to encourage children to care for their own pets and to help eliminate abuse of animals by providing APA information to all segments of the community," the officer said.

Groups interested in viewing the student program are asked to call the APA office, at 877-4594. An officer will record the caller's name and telephone number with the details then referred to the students for processing. Mrs. Johnson explained.

The Quad-Cities APA chapter has secured a location to house abandoned and unwanted animals, it was learned.

The Prather students will help construct various shelters at the site, Mrs. Johnson said. They also have volunteered to assist at this weekend's adoption booth at the cat show in Belleville, she added.

Almost the first project of the Prather club was adoption of a tiny black orphan kitten that wandered into a meeting. The members voted to pay for her upkeep and select a name, the officer reported.

Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward told the council that he had talked with Nonn Friday afternoon before the council meeting began and that "Nonn said he will not go along with signing all the bills and will not serve as chairman. He said his doctor will not permit him to go up or down steps and it is going to be six weeks to two months before he will return to council meetings."

Mayor Partney, after announcing his withdrawal from the secondary treatment program, notified the council that he had filed with the city clerk's office an authorization for Nonn, as chairman of the Pollution Plant Committee, to sign all documents necessary to conduct the program.

Warrior Matmen Earn 16th Victory as Flyers Topple

The mighty Granite City High School wrestling machine rolled over the East St. Louis Flyers 45-9 in a meet here Tuesday night. The victory was the 16th in a row for the undefeated, untied Warriors.

The Warriors won nine matches and lost three. Veteran Gary Loy was sidelined by influenza.

The only pins in the dual meet were credited to Kerry Johnson (119) in 1:59 and Kevin Niebur (139) in 3:45. Decision victories were earned by John Niebur (112), 6-0; Dennis Ragan (132), 6-1; Doug Wilson (138), 16-0; and Rich Paschedag (135), 13-6.

Paschedag, Wilson and Ragan all were wrestling one weight class heavier than their normal classes in an attempt to fill out the lineup.

Illness also was prevalent among the Flyers wrestlers, as they were forced to forfeit to Pat MacMillan (98), Tom Kallert (155) and Craig Stephens (heavyweight).

Losers were Phil Lapinski (165), 7-0; John Schooley (145), 11-0; and Jack Schooley (167), 4-2. Lapinski met Carl Jones, a champion in the Holiday Tournament here, and had the disadvantage of being outweighed as he normally wrestles in the 160-pound class. Hankins' match was only his second in varsity competition.

As the varsity squad toppled the Flyers, the junior varsity Warriors fought to eight victories, one draw and three losses to down East St. Louis 27-20.

Winners by pins for the JV team were Rudy Pyle, Dan Heath, Phil Shands, Ken Nolin and John McMillan. John Avedisian earned the only decision victory and Dave Ruebhausen fought to a draw. Mike Hollis and Ron Moter were handed forfeit wins.

The varsity Warriors will host East St. Louis Lincoln for a dual meet at 4:30 p.m. Friday and if they slip by Lincoln, they will be one of the three undefeated teams entered in the Other undefeated teams entered are Northwest and River-view Gardens. Northwest is the defending Missouri state champion and River-view Gardens has won every major tournament it has entered this year, including the Holiday Tourney here.

The other five teams are the host and McCluer, Ritenour, Roosevelt and Vianney.

The first round of competition in the tournament will begin at noon with the semi-finals set for 3 p.m. The championship and consolation bouts will begin at 7 p.m.

Brandt Wins Title, Gateway Skaters Place 5th in Meet

Two members of the Gateway Speed Skating Club of Granite City-St. Louis won individual class championships and the team placed fifth in a field of 33 clubs in the two-day Great Lakes Speed Skating Championships during the weekend at West Allis, Wis.

Chris Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brandt, 2809 Indiana Ave., won the juvenile boys class championship by winning two races after being shut out the day before.

Despite being seven points behind going into the second day of competition, Brandt showed his heels to the field in the two final events, the one-third mile and the 440-yard, which earned him 10 points.

The intermediate division champion is Jim Chasin, Jr., 16, of the Gateway Club. He won the one-sixth mile and three-quarter-mile events Saturday and placed second in the 800-yard for a six-point lead going into the second day of competition.

He scored a third in the 440-yard event after chasing skaters at the start. In the mile and two-mile events it was first place again and a new meet record of 8:25.2 in the two-mile race which shattered the old mark by 15 seconds.

Chasin will be skating in the Junior World Speed Skating Championships on March 1-2 in Oslo, Norway.

The remaining points were picked up by Ed Jarquin in the senior men's division by his third-place finish in the 800-yard event. He was in three other events but finished out of the money.

Other Gateway skaters entered were John Ragan and Joe

Tigers Claw Trojan Cage Team in 69-50 Road Scrap

Madison High School's Trojans were clawed severely by the Tigers at Edwardsville Tuesday night and suffered the end of a 69-50 basketball battle.

"We were hurt bad in the first quarter and never really came out of it," Trojan Coach Larry Graham said.

The Tigers jumped ahead 20-4 in the first quarter and held leads of 34-21 at the half and 43-34 going into the final period. Edwardsville held the advantage from the field, 28-19, and from the charity line, 13 to 12, while outlasting Madison 16 to 14.

Jerry Belford led the Trojans with 16 points, followed by Ed Chandler 14, Anthony Matthews 13, Terrance Young 6 and Quincy Canada 1.

"We are still lacking a top offensive forward. No one can."

seems to be able to give us that real offensive punch in that slot. Young did well off the backboards, but not good enough on offense. Matthews fouled out, but played a good game," Graham said.

"We are going to have our hands full when we go to Roxana Friday. They are always tough, if the team makes up its mind it is going to win, it can."

Nearly Is Not Enough As Lincoln Tops Venice 91-83

The Venice High School basketball Red Devils were within range of upsetting Lincoln of East St. Louis Tuesday night but ran out of steam and lost 91-83 to the winners court.

The Devils went into the final stanza with a 69-65 lead but were outscored by the Tigers 26-15 in the period. Venice, now 7-and-7 for the season, trailed 22-15 at the end of the first quarter and tied it at 44-all at the half.

It was the second loss of the season to Lincoln as the Devils bowed 74-62 on Dec. 10.

Lincoln's victory came from the field as the Tigers cut out the Devils 39 to 34 while Venice had a 15 to 13 advantage from the free-throw line. Each team committed 14 fouls.

Algie Smith led the Devil offensive attack with 29 points while Jim Ohlendorf had 16.

Ray Mosby 15, Cornelius Wiley 13, Ron Henry 8 and Dan Severs 7.

The Devils will try to tilt their record toward the win side Friday when they travel to Valley for a game at 8:15 p.m.

The Cougar basketball team of Southern Illinois University-Southern returned to its seasonal form this week, losing to Lincoln 110-84 Monday night at Jefferson City, Mo., and to Missouri-St. Louis 95-77 last night at the Edwardsville High School gym.

The defeats dropped Coach Jim Dudley's Cougar team to 2-13 while the Missouri Rivermen upped their record to 12-4 as they seek a bid for the NCAA college playoffs.

Cole Honored As All-America

Dan Cole of Southern Illinois University-Southern, named to the NCAA college basketball All-American baseball team, was honored between the halves of the SIU-SW and University of Missouri-St. Louis basketball game last night.

He was presented a certificate by Harry Gallatin, league athletic director.

The Cougar outfielder, selected for his last play season, hit .377 last year as a junior and .389 as a sophomore. The high point of his college career was back-to-back-to-back (the "trick") home runs as a sophomore in a single game.

Coach Roy Lee plans to switch Cole to first base this season. He played prep baseball at St. Louis Normandy High School.

Morris Campbell Sentenced to 1-2 Years in Prison

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District was without a board of trustees today following the sentencing in Belleville yesterday of Morris Campbell, East St. Louis, to a one to two year prison term. Campbell was convicted of stealing district funds.

Assistant State's Attorney Joseph B. McDonnell, of St. Clair County, said at Belleville that he plans to notify the St. Clair County clerk that a vacancy exists on the levee district board of trustees.

He said Campbell's office on the levee district "automatically" forfeited by his having been convicted of an infamously crime, McDonnell said. Campbell plans to appeal the conviction.

Campbell's removal from the present three-man board will reduce the membership to two members - William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice and Lawrence Ebersold of St. Louis. The levee board normally has five members, but it was reduced to three by the deaths of Joseph Grant of Granite City and George Duff of East St. Louis.

A minimum of three members is needed for a quorum. Thus the board cannot operate with only two members. This means passage of the district's levee tax levy and payrolls will be passed until some action is taken.

This action possibly will consist of an appointment of one or more members by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

Ebersold said today "there is nothing we can do now except wait to see what happens."

Kunstler at SIU-SW, Urges Confrontation

William Kunstler, activist criminal lawyer, said Wednesday at SIU-SW that the handling of the Attica, N. Y., prison rebellion convinced him that only confrontation can lead to changes in American society.

He called the deaths of 34 prisoners and nine guards last September "brutal, brutal, premeditated murder caused by a government that should have known what would happen when 1,000 armed men were in a confined place."

Kunstler, invited to the prison by the inmates to serve as their lawyer and a negotiator with New York State officials, said Attica led him to "inescapable conclusions."

"The entire system is geared to destroy or control those who society fears," he contended. "The law is not beneficial, but a device to control men marked by society. The law was used in the same manner as it was used to crucify Christ or put Socrates to his death."

Kunstler said placement reform of society is not realistic. "Only through confrontation can it be changed," he said. "People must react through means other than electoral politics or talk of reform."

County Bar Committees Appointed by Schooley

William W. Schooley, president of the Madison County Bar Association, today announced the appointment of Charles Chapman and Irvin C. Slate Jr. as chairmen of the jury and law committees, respectively. All three are Granite City attorneys.

Other members of the jury committee are Lance Callis of Granite City, Harry Armstrong and Robert Wilson of Edwardsville, Robert Maucker of Alton and Paul Pratt of East Alton. Members of the Law Day committee are Norman Kinder and Ben Allen of Granite City, Paul Riley of Edwardsville, Earl Ferguson of Highland and a James Strauf of East Alton.

Six New Fire Hydrants To Be Installed in City

An ordinance authorizing installation of fire hydrants in six locations was approved by the Granite City Council in regular meeting Monday night on recommendation of Fire Chief Earl Fronhanger and the council's Fire and Water Committee.

The new hydrants, which will be installed by the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Committee under the city franchise, will be located at 23rd and Adams streets, Idaho and St. James streets, 2500 Grand Avenue, 2500 Grand Avenue, Fortuna Drive and Wilson Avenue, and at 4225 Alton Road.

Three Men Arrested

James R. Billen, 23, James L. Lance, 27, and Phillip L. Lance, 26, all of 2111 Delmar Ave., were charged with disorderly conduct in the 2100-block of Delmar at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday they were released on cash bail of $25 each.

More About Hagnauer

The highest vote for any county office in the county and one member of the party receiving the second highest vote for the same office prior to any appointment of a member.

"There is nothing in the statute to require that the chairman of the County Board step aside, and nothing in the statute to provide for the circumstance we have here, i.e., two members of the Board of Review being of the same party and then the new county chairman being elected of that same party."

"The statute doesn't spell out any means of correcting this and, therefore, upon the expiration of the next appointed term, which I understand will be on June 30, 1972, the new appointment must be made to conform with the above provision requiring minority party representation on the County Board of Review."

"The fact that the Board of Review may consist of three members of the same party during the interim does not affect the legality of the Board's actions."

'Good Neighbors' Aid New U. S. Citizen

"Without such good neighbors I couldn't have done it," Mrs. Earl B. (Lee) Preston, 2520 Madison Ave., a native of South Korea, said this week after receiving her United States citizenship in ceremonies at Springfield.

Mrs. Preston, who does not drive a car, was taken to Springfield by two neighbors—Mrs. Lloyd (Juanita) Bailey, 2527 Madison Ave., and Mrs. E. W. Gangluff, 2516 Madison Ave.

The two local residents also appeared as Mrs. Preston's character witnesses, a requirement in the naturalization process which precedes the formal court action. Thirty-one residents of Illinois became citizens in Monday's ceremony at the Federal Building in Springfield.

The Quad-Cities' newest citizen was Pusan, Korea, where she and her husband were married in January 1968.

Mr. Preston, a retired Army sergeant, spent 23 years in the service, including four years in Korea. He is a native of Pekin and is now employed at General Steel Industries. Due to his job, Mrs. Preston was unable to accompany his wife to the state capital Monday.

Mrs. Preston arrived in Granite City three years and five months ago. She had been employed at a U. S. Army base at Pusan.

Her knowledge of English was good, but to help her understand the basics of American government and history, also requirements in the naturalization procedure, she attended evening classes at Granite City High School in 1969.

She sincerely appreciates the help that many people have given her since coming to this community in 1968.

In addition to the two friends who traveled to Springfield with her this week, Mrs. Preston mentioned Mrs. Nina Bell, formerly of 2610 Madison Ave., now living at 903 West Ave., Cahokia. "Mrs. Bell helped me to learn the American customs and speech more than anyone else," she commented.

Obviously happy to become an American citizen, Mrs. Preston credited her husband and the assistance of her "good neighbors" in helping her to better understand and enjoy life in her new country.

Her sentiments also were clearly reflected in the outfit she chose to wear at the citizenship ceremony—it was royal blue in color, trimmed in red, white and blue.

Different speakers will address those participating at each meeting. Their talks will cover such topics as welfare, divorce problems, legal rights, drug abuse and limited budgets.

Alpha-Omega Players to Perform 'Luther'

Theatergoers of the Quad-Cities who have a taste for serious, stirring drama can look forward to the Alpha-Omega Players' production of "Luther," the play that won the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award and the Tony Award of the 1963-64 season.

It will be presented at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church on Friday, Feb. 18, beginning at 8 p.m.

"Luther" is the powerful, exciting epic about the German monk of the sixteenth century who changed the face of history and religion throughout western civilization, the play whose powerful dialogue and action stunned audiences all over the world. The chronicle of Martin Luther's passionate struggle with his own conscience and his revolt against the authorities of the Catholic church which led to Protestantism, was written by John Osborne, the brilliant English playwright who achieved world renown with his play, "Look Back in Anger," in the mid 1950's. Among his other credits is authorship of the Oscar winning movie, "Tom Jones."

The cast will include Steve Nestor, Jill Murphy, Mark Murphy, Emory Swift and Nancy Hasty of the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Tex., the nation's leading repertory company. This group has presented more than 2,000 performances in 45 states.

Tickets, costing $2 each, may be purchased in advance at the Niedringhaus Church office, or may be obtained at the door the night of the performance. Additional ticket information may be secured by calling Marvin VanMetre, at 876-7200.

Youth Revival at Baptist Church

A week-end youth led revival will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the West 22nd Street Baptist Church, starting at 7:30 p.m. each day, with a youth team from Southern Baptist College, Walnut Ridge, Ark., leading the services.

The Rev. Kyle Cox will present the sermons. Charles Carnes will serve as director of music, with Miss Lois Tipson accompanying the group at the piano and Miss Joyce Barnett presenting special music.

Young people of the host church will participate in the three-day observance by assuming leadership roles in the different departments and teaching Sunday School classes, according to the Rev. Thomas Bray, pastor.

"We are inviting everyone to come and enjoy this 'Youth Week Emphasis' with us," the Rev. Bray said. "Refreshments will be served at a social hour immediately following worship services on Friday and Saturday nights," he added.

GC Business Women's Club Initiates Scholarship Plan for Working Women

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

To further a business woman's career by offering her financial assistance through a scholarship grant will be the main objective of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club Foundation Development Committee, formed for the first time this year by the local BPW chapter.

Maximum scholarship grants of $1,000 per year will be made available to any member who plans to use the extension training in a practical and immediate way and who also demonstrates financial need.

The scholarships are not primarily intended for the girl attending college at the usual age level, but for the mature woman wanting to expand her knowledge and further her career.

Awards will be offered by the BPW Foundation Committee to assist women who need additional education or training in order to enter a new career field or to improve their chances for advancement.

Almost any type of education or training, academic or vocational, could qualify under the program. The awards may be used for part-time or full-time study. However, only accredited schools will be considered.

Committee Appointed. Mrs. Annellen Smith is chairman of the local Foundation Development Committee, with Mrs. Ruth Milhouser as co-chairman.

Committee members include Mrs. Rosemary Buscien, Mrs. Antonette Lynch, Mrs. Margaret Aufderheide, Mrs. Verna Lengyel, state Foundation Development chairman; Mrs. Pauline Weir, BPW president; and Mrs. Lil Marzul, program coordinator.

During its preliminary meetings, the committee decided to concentrate its attention on three projects to assist a club member in advancing her career: to find a nominee for a Career Advancement scholarship grant; and to provide the state Foundation with a memorial fund in the name of Mrs. Pearl Ryckman, a Granite City BPW charter member who died in November.

Others Eligible. Career Advancement Scholarships will not be limited to club members only, it was reported.

Eventually, the committee will consider any working woman in the Illinois bi-state metropolitan area as a grant recipient. BPW club members interested in furthering their education through use of a scholarship grant are asked to submit a resume to Mrs. Smith for review by the committee. A recommendation will then be made to the club's general membership for appropriate action.

The resume should include the applicant's previous education status and her future objectives or goals, Mrs. Smith said.

Foundation Development funds have been provided by Business and Professional Women's club across the nation the past three years. The current effort is the first attempt by the Granite City group to take part in this particular type of educational program, the chairman explained.

Research, Library. The Business and Professional Women's Foundation is the sole research and educational organization devoted exclusively to the working woman. Its many areas of service include research, publications, library, scholarships, training conferences and historical collections, all of which concern women in business and the professions.

SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED WILL CHOOSE OFFICERS

The Granite City Society for Crippled Children, meeting Monday night at Burns Cafeteria, heard reports by committee chairmen on files of a benefit ball held Saturday. A nominating committee was appointed to select a slate of officers to be voted on at the February meeting.

New members who have joined the Society are Roger and Agnes Bowler, Ronald Veltzer, Mayor Donald Parney, William E. Kinder and John McDonald. The next meeting will be Feb. 28 and the public is invited to attend.

Baptists Plan Bible Study

The West 22nd Street Baptist Church will conduct a Bible study program starting Monday and continuing through Friday, Feb. 4, under the leadership of Dr. H. C. Chiles of Murray, Ky.

Dr. Chiles will be teaching from the Book of Job at two sessions each evening, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Using the theme, "Will a Man Serve God for Naught," Dr. Chiles will compare the conflicts Job faced with similar situations in today's world.

The guest speaker served as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Murray for more than 20 years prior to his retirement. He remains active as a speaker, a teacher of the Bible and with his writings.

Foundation resources and facilities are available to individuals and organizations working in areas of concern to employed women, the chairman noted.

Professionally-taught conferences sponsored by the Foundation are held at various locations throughout the nation to make leadership and management training readily available to women in as many geographic areas as possible.

Among the major projects of the National Business and Professional Women's Foundation is the research and library center, located at the National Executive Offices, Washington, D. C.

Efforts at the center are concentrated on an intensive search for all materials, including books, pamphlets, clippings, tapes and microfilm, which have a current and particular relevance to working women.

Research grants are made periodically by the board of trustees to probe subjects affecting business and professional women, the local chairman said.

The National BPW Foundation was first established in 1929.

335-Acre Development Is Opening This Week

The Cottonwood Station Corp. is announcing the formal opening of its new 335-acre planned development, Cottonwood Station, south of Edwardsville on Illinois Highway 159, near the old Troy Road. The development features a variety of housing, plus supporting business, it is one of the first in the metropolitan area with total environmental planning.

The land plan, created by Team-4, a Clayton-based planning firm, has taken "typical upland quail country" — rolling meadows and patches of woods — and blended it into a community in which "livability" and the environment, come first.

James L. Deeren and Merrill Ottewill, officers of Cottonwood, report.

The development centers around a 28-acre rustic park "a place to walk in the woods," and every home site or apartment community is adjacent to the park and to two lakes by footpaths. Green belts are found in all parts of the development, and larger green belts buffer separate living sites — single-family homes from apartments, etc.

The topography was "used and not abused." Roads curve with the land, never cutting across artificially. Utilities are underground and native trees such as ash, oak, sassafras and hickory are preserved. Dogwood, redbud, crab and others will be added from the development's 70 acres of nursery stock, planted several years ago in anticipation of the construction.

Rustic Contemporary Theme. The architectural style has been defined as "rustic contemporary," with warm, weathered wood being the primary emphasis on wood.

Walker at Explosion Site; Due Here Friday

Dan Walker, independent Democratic candidate for governor who will be in the Quad-Cities tomorrow, on Tuesday appeared to Illinois' two U.S. senators to seek emergency funds from the federal government to aid injured and homeless families in the East St. Louis area. About 200 persons were injured and many homes were destroyed and damaged by an explosion Saturday in railroad yards in East St. Louis.

Walker will tour the devastated area today as part of a previously announced tour of the Madison-St. Clair Counties area. He called on Senators Stevenson and Percy to seek emergency help, similar to that provided in the wake of a flood or other natural disaster.

Walker suggested that State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon might be able to provide area banks with state funds at low interest rates. The banks, in turn, would use the money to provide low-cost loans for new housing and repairs, Walker said.

He also suggested that the governor's office funnel funds into the disaster area immediately from a contingency fund and then seek a special appropriation from the legislature when it reconvenes this spring, to replace the money. Walker will be in East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Alton, Granite City and Madison County, a staff aide said.

Autos in Accident

throughout. Homes clustered on a 45-acre portion, containing 87 sites, will be offered this spring. Cottonwood Station is the name chosen for the apartment grouping, also to be started in the spring. Cottonwood Junction will be an adjacent commercial area, directly available from Rte. 159.

Cottonwood Village is a mobile-modular community already in existence on 100 acres of the development. Families are moving into the first phase of 61 homes. Cited as an answer to economy housing, these 12x30 or 12x40-foot factory-built homes are all-electric; the owners lease ground and bulk services from the developer. Lawn care is a part of the rent.

Wheels used in transporting the home to the site are removed in the sitting process and the home is tied to concrete foundations. Cluster arrangements has, according to the plan, emphasis on landscaping and all-wood-sided exteriors complete the concept.

The park, a lake and other recreation facilities are available to village residents. The new park will be open from noon until dark.

Cottonwood Station was the name of a stop on an old streetcar route along what became Highway 159. The station burned during a blizzard in 1918 when a passenger was killed. The park, a lake and other recreation facilities are available to village residents.

Cong. Price to Support Flood Control Projects

Congressman Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis), reported yesterday that the budget request for the fiscal year starting July 1 include $29,860,000 for six area flood control and navigation projects. A total of $18 million is recommended in fiscal year 1973 to continue construction of the mammoth Kaskaskia River navigation project; $250,000 to continue planning of the sorely needed Madison County interior flood control project; $1,500,000 for the Mississippi River regulating works to maintain the navigation channel; $8,100,000 to continue construction of the Chain of Rocks navigation lock; $1,500,000 to continue planning of the new Alton navigation lock and dam 28 project; and $30,000 to continue study of the Silver Creek watershed and reservoir project.

Cong. Price indicated that he would appear before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works in support of the projects. No definite timetable has been established for the hearings but members of Congress usually testify in May or June on the public works appropriations bill.

New Laws Urged in Drainage Controversy

New city ordinances that would require provisions for stormwater drainage before construction is permitted in any part of Granite City were urged by Alderman Thomas Boker Monday night in another stormy city council session over the city's drainage problems.

Boker said he was making the suggestion because a lengthy search of records in the city clerk's office indicates the city does not now have, and apparently never has had, specific controls of any kind calling for proper disposal of stormwater drainage as a qualification for a building permit.

The alderman said he searched the city records, for such controls after he was criticized by residents of the Lynch-Vesci-Stearns avenue area in the northeast section of the city, located in Boker's Ward, for reversing his stand on a previously adopted ordinance that would require special city inspections of drainage facilities before building permits could be issued in that area of the city east of the Nameoki Drainage Canal.

Those criticisms were carried into the council session by a delegation of area residents headed by Lester "Bud" Beyer, 2529 Lynch Ave. Beyer was given permission to speak during Monday's meeting after several council members clashed verbally over what should be done to protect the area against worsening drainage conditions.

Beyer told the council that "it has opened building to anyone who wants to come in there and develop housing that will add to the present drainage problems."

Mayor Donald Partney said Beyer exchanged words over the ability of the city to correct the present problem which involves flooding of the northeast section during even moderate rainfall. Partney said a project under way to install pumping facilities and a drainage line will drain the area more rapidly.

But Beyer insisted that unless the city controls building activity, the development of future subdivisions and apartments would compound the drainage problem and increase the flooding potential. Beyer criticized the city for permitting construction of apartments in the area when it "was apparent the drainage was inadequate before they were built." He said he never was able to learn who issued the permits for the apartment construction.

An ordinance requiring special inspections of drainage facilities before building could be permitted in the area was passed several weeks ago under sponsorship of Alderman Boker who had tried on at least four occasions to get final approval of such a bill.

Mayor Partney vetoed the measure, however, and in the subsequent voting on a motion to override the veto, Boker voted in favor of the veto action, thus reversing his stand.

Boker said Beyer and council members Monday that he changed his mind in the controversy after it became apparent that the city should abandon efforts to join with other agencies in developing the Doherty Slough drainage improvement project under state leadership.

"I figure that if we wait on the state and the levee board and all the others, we never will see anything accomplished, so I am in favor of taking care of our own and going ahead with our own plans to solve the problems in the Lynch-Vesci area," Boker said.

Mayor Partney said he believes the Doherty Slough project which is sponsored and financed by the Illinois Division of Waterways "will be a matter of several years if the project ever is carried out."

Partney said legal proceedings to acquire needed right-of-way for a project to install pumping facilities and a drainage line will be tied up in the courts for years.

"The council was notified Monday night by John Guillou, chief engineer of the waterways division, that his staff will reconsider a proposal by some city officials that a new route for the Doherty Slough drainage improvement (carrying stormwater runoff into Nameoki Ditch). Guillou originally turned down such a suggestion by Mayor Partney.

Guillou said in the letter: "While the Division of Waterways has investigated the possibility of conducting the Doherty Slough Water westward along Pontoon Road and into Nameoki Ditch, we are certainly willing to review that plan and make more detailed calculations in response to your suggestion and request."

"The division must reaffirm its position that at the present time we believe that the logical outlet from the temporary Doherty Slough pump station, which is funded by the Illinois General Assembly, is along the alignment southerly to Horse-shoe Lake. We have made a substantial and definitive input scattered and, within a few days, the impact, appears to want."

Several surrounding states have been reporting high incidence of influenza. Public health officials in those states are watching carefully to make sure it does not reach epidemic proportions.

Illinois health officials have been watching the statistics for some time. Up to now, they report there have been no major flu outbreaks.

State public health officials point out that the decision to get flu inoculations, which are available, is strictly a personal matter which should be discussed by the person with his physician. Probably the best time for the inoculation is early in the winter.

Flu Impact on State Still Mild—Dr. Yoder

Copley News Service
Springfield — Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, head of the Illinois Public Health Department, says absenteeism at schools and work because of the flu as of now appears to be more or less normal throughout the state.

"The Hong Kong A-2 type of flu is well seated in Illinois, but still at this time absenteeism is not usually high," he said.

Yoder added, "We are cautious about the possibility of the flu increasing in Illinois." He pointed out that the state keeps close tabs on reports from field offices about the progress of any such disease.

The department is warning Illinoisans to keep a close watch on the flu. He said one of the protective measures a person can take is to avoid crowds; if a person becomes ill, he should immediately contact the family physician.

There have been reports from various sections of the state on absenteeism, particularly in schools. These reports are scattered and, within a few days, the impact, appears to want."

Regional Report Lists Retail, Recreation Improvements

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)
Plans for a $1.5 million shopping center in Granite City producing retail sales of about $10 million a year and at least 350 jobs were announced.

Plans for the center, which are being made by Schnick Markets, Inc., call for 150,000 square feet of building space, and parking facilities for more than 850 automobiles.

The building of brick construction, which will be of a continuous line, can start by May and be completed before the end of the year.

The shopping center is planned on a 15-acre tract on the southwest corner of the intersection of Nameoki and Pontoon Roads at the north end of Granite City. Development of the project, however, hinges on the vacating of several streets by the Granite City Council.

Nelson Hagauer, Granite City Township supervisor, has been elected chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors, succeeding the late Harold Landolt. Hagauer is chairman of the finance, fee and salary committee of the County Board. The Alhambra Township Board of Town Auditors appointed J. Jack Franklyn to complete Landolt's term of office.

Striking steelworkers of General Steel Industries, Inc., Granite City, accepted a three-year contract and are returning to work.

The new contract, which calls for a 32-cent an hour increase the first year, a 14-cent increase plus a 10-cent cost of living increase the second year and a 17.5-cent increase plus a 10-cent cost of living increase the third year, will expire Jan. 4, 1975.

Although certain operations at the plant are expected to be started quickly, a company spokesman said it would be two weeks before production is back to what it was before the start of the strike Nov. 20.

The U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has approved grants totaling $1 million for improvements at Frank Holden State Park in St. Clair County and Horseshoe Lake Park in Madison County.

The latest grant for Horseshoe Lake calls for the acquisition of 600 acres of land around the lake.

Half of the grant approved for improvements in Holden State Park will be made available immediately to the state.

The Edwardsville City Council has adopted a five-year $281,100 park development program. Improvements will be provided to City Parks as well as to other parks within the city. Edwardsville will apply for federal matching funds for the program.

Plans for a regional ecological study of the Illinois and St. Louis areas have been tracked. The Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council sent the proposal back to its environmental task force for further clarification on what the study would encompass.

As proposed, the study, which could cost from $600,000 to $900,000 over a two-year period, would be sponsored by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and information collected would be used to show the areas most clearly suitable or unsuitable for development.

An application seeks federal funds to help upgrade Granite City's sewage treatment plant. The treatment plant project is part of an estimated $15.8 million program to provide for secondary treatment of sewage and construction of a system to treat storm water overflows.

In Edwardsville, an engineering firm has recommended $4.9 million of improvements to the city's sewers and sewage treatment facilities. A new treatment plant to serve the city of 25,000 is suggested.

In general area news, Harold E. Thayer has been elected president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association. St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis has been designated as the area's first trauma center in the state's program to aid critically injured persons.

Nicholas P. Voeder, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel Co., has announced that appointment of Howard M. Love, president of National Steel's Midwest Steel Division, as president of Granite City Steel Co. The St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals has approved issuance of a special permit for construction of a 30-building town house complex on a 40-acre tract three miles east of Belleville on State Route 161.

Auto Stops in Yard
Phillip McGovern, 18, of 2518 E. 27th St., was injured when his auto and another driven by Vivian M. Gilleland, 116 Wilson Park Lane, collided at about noon Monday. McGovern's car jumped the curb and stopped in the yard at 2801 Madison Ave. after striking shrubs and a concrete porch.

East Madison Fire District Suggested

School Burglarized

Money was taken from two soda machines in a burglary at Coolidge Junior High School, it was reported at 11 p.m. Monday. Entry was gained by breaking a classroom window.

Bitten by Dog

John Smith, 75, of 828 Weaver St., Venice, told police yesterday that a brown shaggy dog bit his right leg. Police have been unable to locate the dog.

Formation of a new fire district may be the simplest way to provide fire protection services to unincorporated areas in Nameoki Township presently served by the Madison Volunteer Fire Department, William S. Schooley, township attorney, advised the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night.

The attorney gave the opinion after Supervisor Louis Whitesell reported that Mayor Mike Sasysk of Madison said that firemen in that community can no longer furnish fire protection services to areas outside the city limits.

Mayor Sasysk stressed, however, that Madison firemen will continue to respond to alarms in the affected area until a suitable plan is developed. The Cloverleaf Subdivision, located southeast of Madison, is the section primarily involved.

A joint meeting of Nameoki Township and Madison City officials will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Madison City Hall to discuss the problem, Whitesell announced.

Bend Road Has Unit

Part of Eagle Park Acres, currently serviced by the Venice Fire Department, and the Bend Road area, also lie within the township boundaries. It was noted that Bend Road residents have formed their own fire-fighting unit.

The Mayor reassured that services definitely will not be discontinued until this problem is worked out," Whitesell said, adding, "But we have to do something about it very soon."

Schooley said that formation of a fire district would enable protection services to be "contracted out" to an established district, such as Madison. An alternative solution would be to annex the unincorporated area to a fire district.

Problems involving insurance of fire fighting equipment and volunteers operating outside established boundaries were mentioned. Leaving their own area unprotected to cover a fire outside the district also is a serious matter, a man in the audience commented.

Applicants Need Deed

Township Assessor Joseph Cohan said residents applying for the first time for tax exemptions under the Homestead Act must have a property deed or copy. Those reapplying are required only to come in and sign for the exemption, he stated. Whitesell said a meeting is scheduled this week to work out problems connected with paying and bonding tax collectors. He noted the change in policy still leaves the collector an employee of the township although paid by the county. Provision for paying the collector's bond has yet to be clarified, he said.

Town Clerk Douglas Teator said two new trustees appointed to the Long Lake Fire District had been formally sworn in office. A third man, George Engleke, who declined to accept reappointment to the district board, will be replaced. Whitesell authorized the auditors to select a township resident for the appointment.

Simon Urges Curbs on Forming More Cities

State government can be more responsive to the needs of municipalities by encouraging innovation and by prohibiting the incorporation of new communities within five miles of existing municipalities, Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon said in Madison County last night.

"Present state statutes prohibit the incorporation of new cities and villages with less than 7,500 residents within one and a half miles of an existing municipality without that municipality's consent," Simon said. "But those regulations have not been sufficient to stop the growth of governmental units."

The lieutenant governor said the state should also provide a process of annexation in cases where cities and villages decline to take in additional territory.

Simon addressed the Southwestern Council of Mayors at the Lewis & Clark restaurant, East Alton.

"State government serves one of its most important functions when it seeks to remove the obstacles which keep municipal governments from helping themselves," Simon said.

"One of the obstacles to effective municipal government is the sheer proliferation of governmental units," he said, noting that Illinois has more governmental units than any other state.

Brown Honored by State; Park Pool Rental Sought

Harold E. Brown, Granite City director of parks and recreation, was honored by the state for his outstanding service to parks and recreation in Illinois during a special visit here last evening.

Eugene Berghoff, Springfield, who attended a meeting of the Granite City Board of Commissioners, presented the award.

Berghoff, vice president of the Illinois Association of Park Districts (IAPD), presented the award with a framed certificate. The award resulted from Brown's services in arranging for and entertaining more than 1,000 guests at the IAPD's annual convention in Chicago.

In other action the park commissioners listened with interest to the first request made by a group seeking to rent Wilson Park swimming pool during hours when the facility was not in general use.

The rental request was made by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baugher of Granite City on behalf of parents of several local swimmers who presently perform with the East St. Louis YMCA squad.

The facility could be rented on a similar basis as the ice rink is now leased to a private hockey association, commission-ers believe. However, a final proposal and decision will be made after consulting Park Board Attorney Randall Robertson.

Plan for Disposal of Radioactive Waste Material Without Shipment

(American Institute of Physics)

The technology developed under the U. S. peaceful nuclear explosives program may prove useful in disposing of the nation's growing amounts of radioactive wastes, according to three scientists at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, Livermore, Calif., Dr. Robert L. Braun, Jerry J. Cohen and Arthur E. Lewis, Plowshare group leader.

The laboratory is operated by the University of California for the Atomic Energy Commission.

They suggest it may be possible to use underground "chimneys"—cavities filled with broken rock—created by small, contained nuclear explosions for permanent disposal of radioactive wastes.

The chimneys would be located thousands of feet beneath nuclear fuel reprocessing plants, which are the primary sources of such waste.

Shipment of the hazardous material would thus be eliminated, and storage and processing greatly reduced.

The increasing use of nuclear power to generate electricity will yield a growing quantity of such waste. Currently, such wastes are stored in tanks at the earth's surface.

'Dog's Life' Regulated by State

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

The dog, traditionally man's most loyal friend and companion, has a loyal defender and guardian under the Illinois law which both protects and regulates the life of the canine.

To keep track of the increasing dog population (Chicago alone has 68,000 dogs registered, only a small portion of the statewide population), the law provides that an owner must have a license for his canine dog.

The license fee is $1 for each male or sterilized female dog and $3 for each unsterilized female dog.

The owner is then given a metallic tag which states the dog's name, license number and date of issuance. The tag must be affixed to a collar around the dog's neck.

Another important regulation to which dog owners must adhere is the annual rabies shot for dogs four months old or older.

After this procedure, the dog receives another certificate and serially-numbered tag which should also be affixed to his collar for permanent identification.

A dog found running at large without evidence of the rabies inoculation may be impounded by authorities.

Bond Grouping Could Cut Interest Costs for Local-Level Government

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield — A bill introduced in the Illinois General Assembly might generate great deal of interest, especially on local government levels.

Supporters of the proposed legislation say that in the long run it could save local governments huge sums of money in interest payments on bonds used to finance various public projects.

Under provisions of the bill, the Illinois Municipal Finance Agency would be formed. It would be an independent state agency, governed by a five-member board.

Four of the members would be appointed by the governor with staggered terms, and the fifth position would be filled by the state treasurer. The appointments by the governor would have to be approved by the Illinois Senate.

The agency would be allowed to hire its own staff.

Edward R. Murrow Was Top Debater In Teenage Years

Editor's Note: Edward R. Murrow, 1908-1965, was a radio and television commentator who raised the journalistic standards of broadcasting. He was director of the U. S. Information Agency in 1961-62. This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Copley News Service
On a spring-like day in April in 1908, Ed Murrow was born in his parents' home on Poisea Creek in North Carolina. He let out a yell as if to announce his birth. It was Ed's first broadcast. He was named Egbert.

In 1921, the year that Ed entered his teens, the first radio sets in this country were being offered to the public by a mail-order catalog. Ed couldn't have cared less. He was fighting battles at school with spelling and math.

He lost that war. This bugged his mother. She was a tiny, beshawled woman but she held an iron hand over her three sons. When she spanked them, Ed always howled the loudest. Stern almost to the point of fanaticism, she devoutly hoped that Ed would become a preacher.

Ed listened to his mother's Bible-reading every day, but it did not curb his hot temper. He often leaped before he looked. This recklessness resulted in two permanent face scars and a twisted finger.

Even in his brothers' hand-me-down garments, Ed managed to look dashing. He was thin, curly-haired and had a grin that was halfway between a smirk and a malevolent smile. That Mona Lisa grin was later to become a talked-about part of his famous and respected radio personality.

Initiated into Society

Ed Murrow was an important cog on the high school campus. He played the ukulele, sang in the glee club, was a pretty good basketball player, and a star basketball forward. Arguing was what came natural to Ed so he was a top man on the debating team.

The high school yearbook predicted that he would become a professor of social science. It also gave him an A for charm. For two years he drove the school bus, or rather, he persuaded it to run. He was never sure that he would get it started—or stopped.

Ed knew that if he went to college, he would have to earn the money. So, at 17, he went to work in a logging camp. The loggers made so much fun of his name that he changed the name to Ed and later to Edward. It was a name that would later signify integrity and excellence in broadcasting.

Wide Public Service by 2 Promoted by General Steel

Thomas R. Remington, who was vice-president of operations of General Steel Industries, and James A. Van Sant, president of the company's Flex-O-Lite Division—announced in Thursday's Press-Record as new group vice-presidents of General Steel—both have extensive public service records.

Operating responsibility for six of GSI's seven manufacturing divisions is being divided between Remington, who is 44, and Van Sant, 41. The St. Louis Car Division will continue to report directly to W. Ashley Gray Jr., GSI president.

"We have reorganized our corporate structure," Gray explained, "to make the company more responsive to the changing requirements of customers in the wide range of industrial and other markets supplied by our divisions."

"There are excellent prospects for future growth and development in many of those markets."

"We want to do everything possible at the corporate level to strengthen our divisions and help them take advantage of opportunities in ways which are profitable to the company."

Reporting to Remington as a group vice-president will be GSI's Castings Division in Granite City, the National Roll Division in Avonmore, Pa., and the Standard Pipe Division in St. Louis. Standards has headquarters in St. Louis and plants there and in six other cities.

The Castings Division produces a wide range of cast steel products, including large castings for steam turbine electric power generators.

National Roll is a leading supplier of cast iron and cast steel rolls to the American steel industry. Standard Pipe Protection is one of the largest U. S. applicators of non-corrosive, protective coatings and wrappings to steel pipe for gas, oil and water pipelines.

Reporting to Van Sant as a group vice-president will be the Simplicity Engineering Co. of Durand, Mich., and Ontario, Canada, a GSI subsidiary; the Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Division with headquarters and a new, highly-automated plant in St. Louis and other manufacturing facilities in California; and the Flex-O-Lite Division, which has headquarters in St. Louis and plants there and in three other cities as well as in Canada and West Germany.

Simplicity Engineering manufactures screening, crushing, conveying and foundry shake-out equipment.

Ludlow-Saylor is the second largest producer of industrial wire cloth and screen in the United States.

Flex-O-Lite is one of the country's largest producers of industrial and reflective glass beads for highway and traffic safety, and of related specialty products.

Remington joined General Steel Industries, Inc., in 1964 as vice-president and general counsel. He became president of the Castings Division in 1967 and vice-president of operations in 1969.

A native of Rochester, N. Y., he graduated from Princeton University in 1951, served in the Marine Corps, where he attained the rank of captain, and graduated from Harvard Law School in 1956.

He served as counsel to Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York from 1958 to 1962 and then practiced law in Rochester.

Remington is president of the board of trustees of Mary Institute, a trustee of Lindenwood College, former president of the Bi-State Chapter of the American Red Cross, and a director of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Van Sant has been associated with General Steel Industries since 1959.

He became a vice-president of General Steel in 1966 and president of the Flex-O-Lite Division in 1969.

J. M. Birdman to SIU Board Office Post

Jerome M. Birdman, assistant professor of speech and theater at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has been appointed academic program officer in the office of the SIU Board of Trustees. He replaces David Rands, professor of chemistry at SIU-SW, who asked to be returned to full-time teaching.

Birdman, whose appointment has been confirmed by the board, came to SIU-SW in 1961 from Vicenza, Italy, where he had been a theater director for more than three years. While in Italy he attended lectures at the University of Padua by the late Carlo Antonicelli, one of Italy's most important classical archaeologists.

In 1964 Birdman was in Brazil as a lecturer on American Drama for the U. S. Information Service. He also collected materials for an historical survey of the Brazilian theater.

Varied Background
Birdman's varied background includes two years on the editorial staff of Accent, a quarterly of new literature; appearance on Broadway; and participation in a television series of classic plays in Philadelphia.

He received his bachelor's degree from Temple University and his master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Illinois.

Birdman and his wife Evamira, a native of Brazil, and their children live at 190 Summer Blvd., Collinsville.

Rands said he requested the return to teaching, "though I very much regretted leaving the Board of Trustees staff." He said he wanted to have closer contact with students.

Mothers Porchlight March; Dance In Venice to Aid March of Dimes

March of Dimes leaders in the Quad-Cities are completing plans this week for the annual door-to-door "Mothers March," to be conducted Sunday and Monday in Granite City, Madison and suburban areas.

Residents throughout Madison and Granite City are being asked to turn on their front porch lights to aid the volunteer workers.

Those visiting the homes will present each family with a special informative kit, containing literature about birth defects, now the primary target of funds obtained in the annual campaign.

Also to aid the current March of Dimes fund raising drive, the Venice Crippled Children's Organization will sponsor its 34th Annual Crippled Children's Ball at the Venice-Madison American Legion Home, 740 Broadway, Venice, starting at 9 p.m. Saturday.

The public ball enables the group of Venice residents to donate funds each year to the Madison County March of Dimes Foundation, Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis County and to aid individual Venice youngsters in need of special medical services.

Tickets for the dance, costing $1.50 per person, may be obtained at the door or in advance from organization members. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Rich Wargin Orchestra.

Members of the Madison Junior Service Club once more have agreed to shoulder responsibility for collecting donations in that community. Mrs. Julia Voloski, club advisor, said today. Most homes will be visited by the volunteers Sunday, with call-backs on Monday evening, she noted.

Mrs. Charles Ruth, general chairman of the Granite City March of Dimes campaign, has issued an appeal for volunteers to canvass their own neighborhoods and to work with the drive captains in specific areas.

Mrs. Ruth said, "We hope everyone will support the efforts of the mothers of Granite City and welcome the volunteer

Parochial Aid Ruling Left Questions Unanswered

Copley News Service

Springfield — The Illinois Supreme Court raised more questions than it answered when it released an opinion concerning parochial school aid legislation.

The opinion leaves in doubt whether a number of bills which have already been passed by the legislature actually are laws.

The Supreme Court also delivered itself of an opinion, which sheds doubt on how much power the governor actually has under the new amendatory veto procedure—but without setting out any guidelines.

Despite the fact that the opinion officially was concerned with State aid to parochial schools, it said nothing about the main issues of that problem.

The parochial case, therefore the court was rejected because the court believes the legislation hasn't yet become law and won't until July 1.

The court also indicated that legislation has been flawed by the legislature adopting amendments offered by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie through his now-powerful amendatory veto.

The changes were so sweeping, according to the court, that if this legislation is challenged by another group on the basis of the amendatory veto problems, the court would invalidate it, the opinion indicated.

The amendatory veto is a new power given the governor by the 1970 Constitution and has no exact parallel in any other state. It provides that the governor may veto any bill if he deems it "unwise, unnecessary or improvident."

If the legislature agrees, the amendments become part of the bill and the bills are signed into law.

Legislators have complained bitterly about Gov. Ogilvie's extensive use of the power of the amendatory veto.

In its comments on the amendatory veto, the high court has stated that the governor's use of the power in revising the parochial school aid legislation was improper. However, it has provided no guidelines on what is proper use.

"Upon the basis of the imprecise test of the constitutional provision and the materials before us in this case," Justice Walter Schaefer wrote for the court, "we cannot now attempt to delineate the exact kinds of changes that fall within the power of the governor to make specific recommendations for change."

"It can be said with certainty, however, that the substitution of complete new bills, as attempted in the present case, is not authorized by the constitution."

William Hanley, the governor's legislative aide, estimates approximately 40 bills are affected by the court's statement—legislation on which the governor proposed amendments and which were accepted by the legislature.

How much of an amendment is too much?

May the governor suggest basic changes in legislation or may he only propose corrections of mistakes made in drafting by the legislature?

The Supreme Court evidently will decide this only on a case-by-case basis.

Opponents of particular legislation may file suits claiming improper use of the amendatory veto and the court then will decide.

Until a particular law is challenged, the governor's office will consider it valid.

There also is another problem which was raised by the court's finding that the parochial aid legislation hasn't yet become law. The governor's office and the legislature believed that the date of final passage of the bills was in June, which under existing law would have made the bills effective on July 1 or when they were signed.

Mrs. Opal Johnson Slightly Improved

Mrs. Opal Johnson, 39-year-old mother of seven children, who was injured seriously in a fall down her basement steps and found unconscious by a son on Dec. 16, is slightly improved and has been transferred to the Anna Henry Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

She receives physical therapy five times a week at the nursing home in a program designed to restore her ability to use her arms and legs. Although Mrs. Johnson has regained her speech, she does not remember people nor events prior to her accident. She cannot walk, sit up or feed herself.

She underwent an emergency brain operation at Firdin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis, where she was admitted shortly after being found at home. She remained unconscious several weeks.

On Jan. 5, Mrs. Johnson was brought to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was given an intensive program of physical therapy and transferred to the nursing home on Jan. 20.

Because Mrs. Johnson had no hospitalization insurance, friends and coworkers have raised funds to help defray the soaring medical costs by holding benefit projects.

Mrs. Johnson was employed as a cook at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 3004 Edwardsville Road, her employer, Mrs. Alice Magers, with the help of Mrs. and Mrs. Armond Tahne, sponsored a pancake breakfast at the restaurant, and realized proceeds of $96.

EARLY MORNING ARREST. Madison Officer Thomas Voloski checks apartment adjoining Tony's Tavern at 1400 Madison Ave. where Voloski arrested a burglary suspect as he was entering the door shown here early this week. Madison police were notified by Granite City officers that a car with the trunk open was parked alongside the tavern. Voloski said he arrived at the scene and arrested Salvatore J. Ochoa Jr., 29, of 3102 Wayne Ave. as he was entering the door. Ochoa was charged with burglary. Police said four boxes of whisky were found in the car trunk.

Mrs. Magers previously had collected contributions of over a $100 which were transferred to a fund established at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, jointly directed by Gary Holtz, the oldest son of the injured woman, and Armond Tahne.

The Amvets Auxiliary Post 51 donated $25 to the fund during a meeting held this month. They also plan a cake walk at the Auxiliary annual Family Day Jan. 29 at the Post home. All proceeds will be donated to the bank account to help Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson's oldest son, Gary, is married and the other children, Terry Holtz, Ron Holtz, 15; Debbie Holtz, 12; Tommy Holtz, 1; Bobby Holtz, 9 and Keith Johnson, five, are residing with their grandmother, Mrs. Audrey Yates, 3032 Myrtle Ave.

Advise Motorists Buy Plates Over Counter

Illinois motorists who still have not applied for their 1972 license plates were advised today by Secretary of State John W. Lewis to purchase them at over-the-counter outlets to be sure of having them in time for the deadline for displaying them.

Midnight Tuesday, Feb. 15—only three weeks away—is the deadline for having the new plates mounted on the vehicles, not merely applied for, and no assurance can be given that applications submitted by mail this late will result in delivery of the plates by the deadline, Secretary Lewis said. This is because of the time required for processing applications and the fact that license plates are third class mail.

Plates may be purchased over the counter at two Secretary of State's office locations in Springfield, in the Centennial building and at Ninth street and South Grand avenue, and at three in Chicago, the Motor Vehicle Facilities at 5301 West Lexington street, 5401 North Elston avenue and 9901 Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. drive. They also may be purchased at 115 banks throughout the state. Registration for 1972 has now reached the 2.6 million mark, about 100,000 more than at the same time a year ago. It is estimated that 4.1 million vehicles should be registered by Feb. 15, and 5 million for the entire year.

SIU-SW Offers Aid After Tank Car Blast

John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has offered to assist the city of East St. Louis in its cleanup after a violent explosion during the weekend caused widespread damage.

In a telegram to East St. Louis Mayor James E. Williams Sr., Rendleman said: "Southern Illinois University-Southwestern stands ready to assist the city of East St. Louis in any way it can to help relieve the suffering caused by the explosion of Saturday, Jan. 22."

Minor explosion damage was reported to one of the SIU-SW facilities in East St. Louis, the Manpower Development Training program building at 3300 Missouri Ave. No damage was reported to the old Broadway Hotel at 411 East Broadway, which houses the other eight programs in East St. Louis.

Piasa Bird Scouts to Use Camp Sunnen This Year

Boy Scouts of the Piasa Bird Council, with offices in Wood River, will be camping this summer at Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., with Scouts from the Cahokia Mound Council, it was announced this week by William Blue, Collinsville, the local Council Camping Committee chairman.

The Piasa Bird Council camp Warren Lewis, which is located on the outskirts of Alton, has fallen victim to lake pollution and the Boy Scouts can not conduct water-type activities in the lake.

Blue said that since the Piasa Council Boy Scouts are outside the boundaries of the local council which takes in the southern half of Madison and all of Bond county, they will pay a premium fee of $50 per Scout per week. This is $4 more than the local Scouts pay.

A training meeting, of the two council camping committees and leadership and training committees, was held Monday at St. Peter United Church of Christ in Granite City to give basic information to the Piasa Bird Scouts on how Camp Sunnen operates.

The local camp has gained national prominence for its operation of the basic Boy Scout patrol method, including having the boys cook their own meals for the entire week at camp.

The Scouts will pass on the information to the Scoutmasters at their March, April and May roundtable meetings. A special weekend training for camp leaders called a "Show and Do" will be held May 5 and 6 at Camp Sunnen.

Topics covered at the training meeting Monday were: "The Patrol Method," presented by Bill Monical, of Granite City, scout executive; Program Planning," presented by J. Richard Hooks, Venice, program co-ordinator for Camp Sunnen; "Cooking and Sanitation," presented by Phil Dixon, Highland, Camp Director and the "Show and Do" training course was outlined by Bob Winchell, advisor to the local council training committee.

Dave Fox, of Granite City, Cahokia Mound council training chairman, presided at the meeting.

Attending the training meeting from the Piasa Bird Council were Jack Baierlein, council camping co-mittee chairman; William Roterbush and John Keller, members of the camping committee; Dick Schade, training committee member, and Bob Broadfoot and Herb Pletschmann, both district executives.

Scouts attending the special camp meeting from the Cahokia Mound Council, in addition to those making presentations, were G. Rollin Henn, of Granite City, council commissioner; Dave Parrish, of Granite City, Uniway (Quad-City) camping chairman; Floyd Jordon, of Granite City, Uniway district leadership and training chairman; Charles Miller of Collinsville, Illini district camping chairman; and Louis Bobka, of Collinsville, Illini district leadership training chairman.

The Piasa Bird Council will kick off its camp promotion with a bean dinner for Scoutmasters tonight in Alton, at which Blue will show slides of Camp Sunnen. According to Piasa Bird Council officials they expect to have about 400 scouts attend Camp Sunnen.

80 Million Working, 4,700,000 Unemployed

Washington — The employment was also little changed over the month.

Nonetheless, both civilian labor force and employment have risen substantially since the summer, with the bulk of the increases occurring among full-time workers, mostly adult females.

The number of workers on part time for economic reasons (those who want full-time work but have been able to find only a part-time job or have had their workweek reduced because of economic factors affecting their jobs) dropped from 2.5 to 2.4 million in December, seasonally adjusted. The November level had been a 10-year high.

The employment situation for Vietnam Era veterans 20 to 29 years old did not change materially in December. Almost 3.7 million were employed. The unemployment rate for veterans was 8.1% this December, not significantly different from November.

The number of unemployed veterans this December was about the same as in December 1970, while employment was $60,000 higher. Compared with a year ago, the number of Vietnam veterans aged 20-29 in the population was up by nearly 600,000.

For nonveterans in the same age group, employment and unemployment were also essentially unchanged over the month. Their unemployment rate at 7.2% in December, has been consistently below that of veterans.

Total nonagricultural payroll employment was up 120,000 in December to 71.1 million, seasonally adjusted. The rise resulted almost entirely from the net return to payrolls of striking workers in mining and transportation.

In other industries, job gains in trade, services and government were offset by losses in manufacturing and contract construction.

The average workweek for all rank-and-file workers, on nonagricultural payrolls, rose in December to 37.2 hours, its highest level since July 1970.

Average hourly earnings of production and nonsupervisory workers on private nonagricultural payrolls were $3.50 in December, up 2 cents from November. Compared with a year ago, hourly earnings have risen 20 cents or 6.1%.

Because of the increase in the actual workweek and the gain in hourly earnings, average weekly earnings rose by $1.44 in December to $130.55. Weekly earnings gains were posted in all major industries except construction.

Compared with December 1970, average weekly earnings were up by $8.12 or 6.6%. During a 12-month period for the Consumer Price Index—November 1970 to November 1971—consumer prices rose by 3.9%.

The nation's employment situation during 1971 was highlighted by a resumption of employment growth late in the year and a leveling off in unemployment. After peaking at 8.2% in November, the unemployment rate hovered around 8% of the labor force throughout 1971.

The civilian labor force continued to expand in 1971, although the rate of growth was slower than in recent years. This slowdown was confined largely to the first half of the year, as the labor force rose substantially over the last two quarters.

The fourth-quarter pickup was the biggest posted since the first quarter of 1969. On an annual basis, the civilian labor force gain amounted to 1.4 million in 1971, up 500,000 from 1970. The gain in each of the two previous years.

The reduction in the armed forces contributed substantially to the increases in the civilian labor force in 1970 and 1971.

Total employment rose substantially in the second half of 1971, after showing little growth through most of 1970 and the first half of 1971.

Employment hit the 80-million milestone in the last quarter, with 78,000,000 above the pre-slowdown peak attained in the first quarter of 1970.

Because of the lack of growth week was unchanged at 37.2 in the early part of the year.

SIU Board Urges Meet On E. St. Louis Future

Harold R. Fischer, chairman of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees, Friday agreed to urge the staff of the Illinois Board of Higher Education to meet as soon as possible with University officials on the future of SIU-SW programs in East St. Louis.

The directive to Fischer came from the full board after representatives of the SIU-East St. Louis Citizens Advisory Committee told the trustees that inadequate physical facilities in East St. Louis are threatening the University's academic program.

SIU-SW President John S. Rendleman endorsed the advisory committee presentation, telling the trustees that the "situation in East St. Louis has deteriorated so badly that it's an emergency." Rendleman said some classes have had to be cancelled three days in the past two weeks because of inadequate heating in the SIU-SW East St. Louis Center, in the old Broadview Hotel.

Rendleman said the Board of Higher Education has been holding up $40,000 in much-needed renovation money for the center. Rendleman said the executive director of the board, James Halderman, had indicated he wanted a meeting several months ago to discuss the renovation funds and the broader question of the future of SIU-SW in East St. Louis.

No meeting date has been set by the BHE, Rendleman said. Ed Smith, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, said he hoped the trustees would reaffirm their commitment to the involvement of SIU-SW in East St. Louis. Rendleman and several trustees told Smith that the University's commitment to East St. Louis remains strong. SIU-SW operates nine separate programs in East St. Louis, eight of them housed in the old Broadview Hotel.

Most Employers to Pay Unemployment Tax

Most employers will be subject to the Federal unemployment tax in 1972, the Internal Revenue Service has announced.

Under Public Law 91-373, an employer is subject to the Federal unemployment tax if during 1971 or 1972 he paid wages of $1,000 in a calendar quarter or had one or more employees at any time in each of 20 calendar weeks. Previously, employers were not subject to the tax unless they had four or more employees at any time in each of 20 calendar weeks.

The first $4,200 of wages paid an employee is subject to the tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972, instead of $3,000 as in previous years.

The rate of tax is 3.2%, but a credit is allowed for contributions paid to a state unemployment fund and for a reduction in state unemployment taxes based on a favorable employment rate. The total credit, however, cannot exceed 2.7%.

Wages paid to household employees and agricultural employees are exempt from Federal unemployment tax.

Federal unemployment tax must be deposited in a Federal Reserve Bank or authorized commercial bank when the total undeposited tax for any calendar quarter amounts to more than $100. The deposit is made during the month following the quarter, with Federal Tax Deposit Form 508 accompanying the deposit.

Contract Talks at SIU-SW To Resume

Contract talks between Southern Illinois University-Southwestern and Service Employees International Union Local 98, are scheduled to resume Monday in Edwardsville, in an effort to avert a strike.

The union membership rejected a proposed contract Saturday by an 82% vote and 90% of the approximately 100 members voted to strike. The union is applied to the international union for strike permission, a procedure which may take several weeks, a spokesman said today.

"We are not that far from agreement. It is just a matter of a few cents and a couple of months of retroactive pay," he stated. The union wants retroactive pay to January and the University has offered to pay raises back to April.

The union includes custodians, janitors, grounds workers and maids at the SIU-SW campuses at Southwestern, Alton and East St. Louis. Their contract expired Aug. 1, 1971.

Urge State Funding Of Retirement Plan

Full funding by the State of Illinois for the State Universities Retirement System was urged Friday by Southern Illinois Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees said it was concerned "for the welfare and security" of SUI employees, "and accordingly beseeches and implores the executive, legislative and administrative officials of the State of Illinois to lend every possible effort to fund the State Universities Retirement System as required by law in order that the obligations of the State of Illinois may be honored."

The Illinois Board of Higher Education, appointed by the governor, is charged by statute with making annual budget recommendations for all state universities to allow those universities to fund the retirement system.

University employees must participate in the retirement system within three years of their employment. A contribution of 8% of each employee's earnings is deducted from his paycheck.

The state contribution averages about 12% of total earnings of all employees covered by the retirement system. According to figures from the Board of Trustees of the State University Retirement System, as of Aug. 31, 1971, the state owed the system about $250 million.

Dr. Thomas Haggai to Be Speaker at Scout Dinner

Dr. Thomas S. Haggai, nationally known minister, will be the speaker at the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America Appreciation dinner on Feb. 19 at the Granite City High School cafeteria. It was announced today by Norman Kinder, Granite City attorney and dinner chairman.

"His message is timeless, but his language is flavored with contemporary phrases; his warmth, humor and understanding indicate he is a very human guy. Haggai is a minister who can communicate with both teenage rebels and conservative gray - suited businessmen," Kinder stated.

The Scout dinner is held every year to honor the men and women who give their time and money to work in the Boy Scout movement. Three silver Beavers and a silver Pawn, for exceptional service to youth will be awarded, the dinner chairman said.

Letters to all Scout leaders have been sent out to give them first chance to purchase tickets. We are asking the various institutions, such as the civic clubs, churches and PTAs that sponsor scout units to purchase tickets from their Scoutmasters, Cubmasters and Explorer advisors as a way of saying thank you to the volunteers that are doing so much to help our young people, Kinder said.

Kinder said the dinner is open to the public and dinner tickets may be obtained from the local Boy Scout office while they last.

Preaching at 12
Dr. Haggai was born in Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1921, of Syrian-English heritage. He spent his formative years in Pennsylvania, and then moved to Boston where, at age 12, he preached his first sermon. His first pastorate was in Rock Hill, S. C., where the church membership doubled under his leadership adding 500 new members. In 1956 he became pastor of Emorywood Baptist Church in High Point, S. C.

'Personal Tax Like a Bone Stuck in Throat' -- Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

Like a bone stuck in the throat, the personal property tax still plagues us no matter how hard we try to dislodge it. That's why I took the very unusual action of filing recently before the United States Supreme Court.

Legally, the tremendous vote of the people against this tax on individuals in November 1970 is of no effect if the Illinois Supreme Court is right.

The state court ruled that vote and, therefore, the referendum was invalid under the United States constitution.

At issue is whether different treatment can be given to corporations, as fictitious individuals, than is given to ordinary persons.

The brief I filed in support of Attorney General William J. Scott argues in polite legal language that the state court's decision is "erroneous."

There is a great deal of law on the side of the people in this matter, and my appeal that the high court hear the case cites pertinent cases.

I wasn't quite so polite when I publicly called the tax absurd.

It is absurd in many ways, and of course it is more than that—it cannot be enforced equally and sensibly.

In the absurd vein must come the practice of instructing taxpayers to list only a fraction of their actual holdings.

In one area, for example, they are told to put down 6% of money they have in the bank. Why 6%? Why not all or none or 7%?

We sat down with the bankers, the county assessor said when he was asked the question, "and we figured this was an amount people would pay." Not necessarily.

The flight of hundreds of millions in cash from Illinois banks before the reporting date of April 1 each year adds the element of tax avoidance to the already sharp ground of reporting only 6%.

But the 6% doesn't stop there—it's multiplied by the so-called equalization factor, and thus may become 9% of what the taxpayer really has in the bank.

So he pays a tax on $9, for example, when he really has $100.

And perhaps the greatest rub in this is that he is supposed to submit these fictional figures even though there is no assessor who will tax according to the true figures independently and sensibly.

Does all this make you dizzy? Or maybe just mad?

Am I just grateful that the exemption of one household of furniture and one automobile is still allowed?

But that does nothing for farmers who—believe me—are hopping mad because they are carrying such a heavy tax load at a time when farm revenues are sinking in comparison with other occupations.

I can't imagine any other business where 40% of gross income goes for property taxes—real and personal.

Our figures indicate that Illinois farmers may bear the heaviest such load in the nation, and certainly in the Midwest.

Most of us got a real break when the one car-one household exemption was allowed.

It's time to give a break to the families that have made Illinois the leading farm export in the nation.

No system of taxation is enforceable or tolerable unless the people accept it as fair—distributing the burden equitably and straightforwardly.

The personal property tax fails on both counts.

There are, for example, sound legal reasons why my proposal to exempt the farm property of farmers is legal.

There are other reasons, too, that may not sway the courts but that are nonetheless important.

I can't imagine any other business where 40% of gross income goes for property taxes—real and personal.

Our figures indicate that Illinois farmers may bear the heaviest such load in the nation, and certainly in the Midwest.

Most of us got a real break when the one car-one household exemption was allowed.

Service Station Hit By Armed Robber Here

An undetermined amount of money was taken in an armed robbery at Pete's Sunoco Service Station, 12th Street and Edwardsville Road, at 2:45 p.m. Monday.

John Mosaki, an attendant, told police that a man entered the station, asked for change for a $5 bill and bought a soda. After a customer left, he pulled a small caliber revolver from his pocket and ordered the victim not to turn around, to open the register and "give me all the money."

The credit was described as being 6 feet, 185 pounds, 25 to 30 years old and wearing a green shirt, dark trousers, black shoes and sun glasses. He left in a red four-door auto.

School Administrators Join Advisory Council

Practicing school administrators have joined faculty of the department of educational administration and supervision at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern on an advisory council for program and service planning.

"The formation of an advisory council," said Stefan P. Krchniak, chairman of the department, "will provide a communication link with practitioners which hopefully will result in reality-oriented programs for graduate students and specialized services to area schools."

Krchniak said in addition to planning and evaluation by the advisory council, "an exchange of visits among the members has been implemented. SIU-SW graduate classes have visited various schools and the practicing school administrators have interacted with the classes on the campus."

A newsletter has been developed to keep everyone informed of activities pertinent to faculty students and school administrators. The newsletter has been distributed to 500 area school administrators and to graduates of the program in educational administration.

Community members of the advisory council include Jack Malach, principal of Maryville

Novich to Attend Class in Greenwich Village

Gary Novich, son of Mrs. Mary E. Novich of Madison, is among 12 students from McKendree College who will study counter-culture in the heart of counter-culture, Greenwich Village, N. Y.

He is a senior majoring in political science and sociology. He is a 1968 graduate of Madison High School.

As a result of McKendree's new 4-1-4 calendar, students attend two four-month terms and a one-month term in which they study only one course. As there are no other classes, the students are not bound to the campus and classes can meet elsewhere.

One class is meeting in London and another in Chicago. Marketing students are traveling with salesmen. The seminar in counter-culture is led by Associate Professor Robert H. Brown. The schedule calls for them to spend Feb. 28-29 in Greenwich Village.

GEORGE WOODS, admissions counselor at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, who competed in the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City and is working out for the 1972 Games.

Promotion Policies Changed by U. S. Navy

A change in promotion procedures has been announced here by Navy recruiters.

"Automatic promotion" from E-1 to E-2 at the end of boot camp has been halted as of Jan. 1. From that date on, enlisted Navy men and women must spend four months before being advanced to E-2.

The one exception will be that commanding officers of recruit training centers can advance up to 10% of each graduating recruit class. Recruiters here quote officials at the Naval Bureau of Personnel as saying the 10% figure represents a limit — not a quota. These officials stress that all advancements to E-2 must be earned, whether in boot camp or later.

Admissions Counselor Is Olympic Games Star

George Woods, admissions counselor at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, says his reputation has not helped him in convincing prospective students to enroll at SIU-SW.

Woods is one of the top shotputters in the world. He took second place in the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City and won the indoor shotput title of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in 1966 while a student at SIU-Carbondale.

In his counseling activities, I've met a few people who know who I am and what I've done," Woods said. "But the large percentage don't know anything about me. They're probably sports fans who follow the St. Louis Blues or the Cardinals, but they don't think much about track and field."

Woods, a muscular six-foot-two-inch who weighs 300 pounds, said he uses personal experience in his counseling, "but not my athletic career unless someone else brings it up." He said he saw the difficulties students had getting jobs in 1968 when he lived in Los Angeles to train for the Olympic Games.

Looking for Work

"There were a lot of people in Los Angeles looking for work, but all the placement services there cost a pile of money," Woods said. "I can tell prospective students that here they can get expert job counseling free from the University Placement Services."

Woods has continued to compete in track meets while working at SIU-SW. He trains after work by lifting weights and joining the Florissant Valley Junior College track team in its indoor facility, the only adequate one in metropolitan St. Louis.

At his last meet, on Jan. 5 in Winnipeg, Canada, he won first place in the shotput with a toss of 67 feet, 6 inches.

"This competition is kind of like a dream world now," Woods said. "One day I'm in Canada winning a medal, the next day I'm back here in the office. It's quite a change."

Woods, of Worden, says he has received encouragement to continue competing from his supervisor at SIU-SW, Registrar Robert Bruker. "He's probably my number one fan," Woods said. "He really follows track and field closely."

Helps Youngsters
When he is not at SIU-SW or training, Woods spends some of his time helping upcoming shotputters, at the request of their high school coaches. He said he is currently giving informal coaching to shotputters for high schools in Collinsville and Granite City.

Woods' chief competitive goal

Fast-Paced 'Who' Finds Big Crowd Everywhere

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

If the Who ever comes to your town, don't miss the concert. Also it would be a good idea to pick up your tickets early because they are playing to sell-out crowds everywhere they appear. It's quite understandable too, after seeing the performance they put on.

The Who consists of Peter Dinklage, lead guitar, John Entwistle on the bass guitar, Keith Moon, drums, and Roger Daltrey, the lead vocalist.

Touring with the Who is an act called Mylon and the Holy Smoke Doo Dah Band. It is a country rock group intermixed with gospel and rock. Mylon performed in a Kelly green suit with red tassels at the ankles and a white cross on his back. The overall performance was that of the group, which includes three soul sisters — Pat, Tricia and Renee — is a good solid one but the audience, like myself, seems to be waiting in anticipation for the Who.

The Who, one of the top English rock groups of today, starts its performance strong and keeps a fast pace throughout the 2 1/2 hours of their concert. They never seem to tire even though they put on a rigorous show.

Captivate Audience
Daltrey and Entwistle captivated the audience by their artistic ability to perform on stage. Daltrey swings the microphone cord in a 10 to 15-foot circle and then catches it faultlessly in his other hand, while Entwistle, dressed in a silver jumpsuit, keeps the audience spellbound by his acrobatic feats, such as summersaults and a jumping jack routine. The overall effect was enhanced by a couple of comic monologues.

The Who plays all of its big hits from its previous albums, along with a few new numbers from its latest releases, "Meaty, Beaty, Big and Bouncy," and "Who's Next," both on the Decca label and both riding high on the nation's charts.

Their music is highly electrified and as the concert progresses, their jam sessions all seem to sound the same. However, they have the ability to hold their audiences with such songs as "My Generation" and "Don't Get Fooled Again."

Daltrey also gives a fine performance on the harmonica as he hits a frantic pace on "Magic Bus."

The Who has also written and composed "Tommy," a rock opera about a deaf, dumb and blind boy who becomes a superstar. "Tommy," which will play at the Aquarius in Los Angeles starting in February, has been called by one music critic as "just possibly the most important work that anyone has yet done in rock."

On the strength of its albums, live performances and "Tommy," the Who, with its spotlight energy, seems to have strong hold on the No. 1 spot in the rock world.

Asylum Choir II
The album "Asylum Choir II" on Shelter Records by Leon Russell and Marc Benno was completed way back in June, 1969. However, Russell, feeling the pain from playing studio dates three times a day for about five years, decided to try to balance his music (life) by recording his own albums on the side.

This album was cut entirely in his Hollywood Hills home, usually late at night after a grueling day in various other studies. The album was the stepping-stone in his deciding to cross the great divide between being a studio musician and the innovative and constantly amazing artist he is today.

"Hello Little Friend" was cut by Joe Cocker on his million-selling second album for A&M. Russell heard the tapes and cut the song the next day. Marc Benno, who now records for A&M, was living at Leon's house at the time. His vocal can be heard on "Learn How To Boogie" and he plays rhythm guitar on most tracks. Leon plays all the other instruments, except on "Sweet Home Chicago" where Chuck Blackwell plays drums and Joe Osbourne plays bass.

It was a long time coming but truly worth the wait.

Italian Film to Be Shown at University

La Strada, a 1954 Italian film directed by Federico Fellini, will be shown at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern in the Communications Building theater. The 107-minute movie is open to the public, admission free.

Screenplay is by Fellini, Ennio Flaiano and Tullio Pinella; photography by Grello Martelli; music by Nino Rota. Actors include Giulietta Masina, Anthony Quinn, Richard Basehart and Aldo Silvani. The Italian dialogue has English subtitles.

La Strada (The Road) is considered Fellini's most widely admired theme and was the first to bring him international recognition, including the grand prize at the Venice Film Festival and the New York film critics and Academy awards as the best foreign film.

The film's showing is sponsored by the SIU-SW foreign language department.

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Here's Why... In our opinion the Basement Home, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement home, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.

Engineering Services Offered to Industries

More than 700 industries in Southern Illinois have been sent a brochure by the department of engineering, mechanics and materials of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, describing the department's services offered to industry.

The brochures were distributed so that Southern Illinois industries would be made aware of the research, facilities and capabilities available at SIU, according to Philip Davis, department chairman.

Services available include engineering aid to individuals and industries for design, patent and development of devices, products and equipment.

Also explained is the department's continuing education program, which is accredited by the Engineers Council for Professional Development, both on the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Visitors to Lady of Snows Shrine Near Million Mark

Nearly a million people visited the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows during 1971, according to Father William Westman, O.M.I., director of the Shrine. A total count showed 980,300 persons came to view various exhibits, attend meetings or tour the surrounding grounds of the Shrine which is located near Belleville, Ill. on Route 469. There is an increase over 1970 when 860,672 persons visited the Shrine.

The most recent exhibit during the Christmas season, the Way of Lights, proved especially attractive to visitors. Attendance at this single spectacle was recorded at 180,612 persons with cars and busses coming from over 300 miles distance.

The Way of Lights was inaugurated last year, highlighting the trees at the Shrine with 7,000 miniature lights. Life-sized figures positioned in group son and Tracy Ashby. All scouts participated in the re-dedication and pinned the ten laws on the Girl Scout emblem.

The district chairman, Mrs. Diane Hessel, and Neighborhood Three chairman, Mrs. Doris Stotz, presented a certificate of appreciation to Miss Yetter and invested Ebby Knebel and Mary Modene into leadership.

Friendship pins were presented to Mrs. Elvira Kuergeis, director of Special Education Region I, and to Lynda Knebel and Kathy Modene.

Year pins were awarded to Sharon Fisher, Becky Cross, Sandy Williams, Vicki Kimbra and Anita Marquis and the program ended with singing. Misses Hodges and Barnes showed films of the European caravan, including visits to Amsterdam, Brussels and Paris.
